 Any replacement sheet containing such amendments must be referred to under item I and annexed to this report.

V. Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-7	YES
	Claims	none	NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	1-7	YES
	Claims	none	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-7	YES
	Claims	none	NO

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)

The following documents identified in the International Search Report have been considered for this report:

D1 : US 6152979 A

D2 : JP 61-245817 A

D3 : JP 2-298307 A

Claims 1-7 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(2)-(3), because the prior art does not teach or fairly suggest any of the embodiments as specifically set forth in the claims.

The invention described in independent claims 1, 5 relates to parts of an air cleaner for automobiles and a method of manufacturing the same.

Document D1 discloses an air cleaner filter element. D2 discloses a preparation of a filter paper type air cleaner. D3 discloses a method of manufacturing the air cleaner element.

Comparing claims 1, 5 with D1-D3, the subject matter of these claims differs from the teachings of D1-D3 in that parts of an air cleaner are obtained by dipping and homogenizing waste paper in a caustic soda aqueous solution, and adding paraffin wax, acrylamide, colloidal silica and polyvinyl alcohol to the solution. The present invention reduces the amount of industrial waste and causes no environmental pollution due to the biodegradability of the waste paper.

Therefore, the subject matter of independent claims 1, 5 is considered to be novel and to involve an inventive step; consequently, the subject matter of dependent claims 2-4,6,7 is also novel and inventive.

Claims 1-7 meet the criteria of PCT Article 33(4), IA, because the invention is industrially applicable.
